EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES MONITORING

The School does not discriminate in considering any person for admission as a student of the School on grounds of religion, race (including colour, citizenship and ethnic origin), political affiliation, sexual orientation or gender.

This information will only be used to monitor the School’s equal opportunities policies, and to assess and deliver appropriate support. However, we recognise that some students might want this information to remain confidential. If you do not want to disclose this information using this form there will be other opportunities during the admissions process. Alternatively you are welcome to contact the Deputy Registrar to discuss any issues in person.

DISABILITY

The School welcomes applications from students with disabilities, and aims to offer as much assistance as possible to accommodate their needs. We recognise our responsibility to take all reasonable steps to ensure that courses are organised and delivered to give the best opportunities for full participation by all students.

Applications from students with disabilities will be considered against the same academic criteria as applications from students without a disability.
